Beautifully Redesigned, All-New Today, Games and Apps Tabs Packed with Original Stories and Editorial

The beautifully redesigned App Store is packed with original stories, updated daily in a new Today tab. It also features new Games and Apps tabs.

San Jose, California — Apple today unveiled the all-new App Store, designed from the ground up to make discovering apps and games easier than ever before. The beautifully redesigned App Store is packed with original stories and editorial, updated daily in a new Today tab, as well as new Games and Apps tabs. Compelling stories, in-depth interviews, helpful tips and collections of must-have apps and games will showcase Apple's unique perspective and aim to inform, help and inspire customers every day. App Store customers have now downloaded more than 180 billion apps and Apple has paid out over \$70 billion to developers since the store launched in 2008, making it the most vibrant software marketplace in the world.

More than 180 billion apps have been downloaded from the App Store by its 500 million weekly visitors.

"Together with our incredible developer community, we've made the App Store the best app platform in the world, and more than 500 million unique customers visit it every week," said Philip Schiller, Apple's senior vice president of Worldwide Marketing. "Now, we are taking everything we've earned from the App Store over the past nine years and putting it into a stunning new design. Every element of the new App Store is richer, more beautiful and more engaging."

Today

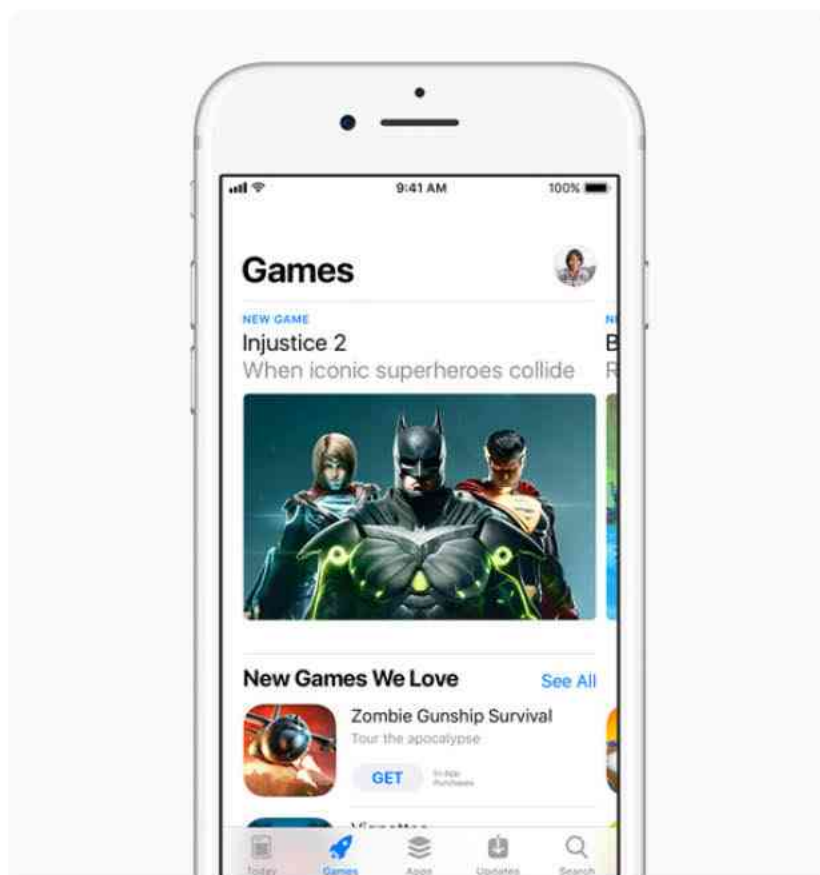

The App Store is packed with original stories and editorials updated daily in a new Today tab.

It all starts with the Today tab, a daily destination all about games, apps and app culture. Through in-depth features and interviews filled with beautiful artwork and videos, the App Store's global team of editors will share the stories behind the apps and games that change the way we live and the developers whose ideas push and shape the world as we know it. Today will feature exclusive premieres, new releases and a fresh look at all-time favorites, as well as recommended tips and how-to guides to help customers use apps in innovative ways.

Games and Apps

Games is the most popular category on the App Store and now has its own dedicated home.

Games is the most popular category on the App Store, and with the new design there will now be a dedicated home just for games. It will feature recommendations of new releases and updates, compelling videos, top charts just for games and hand picked collections. It's now easier than ever to navigate the over half a million games available, and find the perfect game for everyone from the casual player to the hardcore enthusiast.

The Apps tab includes great recommendations, videos, handpicked collections and categories, and its own app charts.

Apps will also have its own tab, bringing customers everything they use, need and enjoy, from photography to money management, shopping to social networking and more. Just like the Games tab, the Apps tab will have great recommendations, videos and hand-picked collections across 24 categories, as well as its own app charts.

Updates and Search

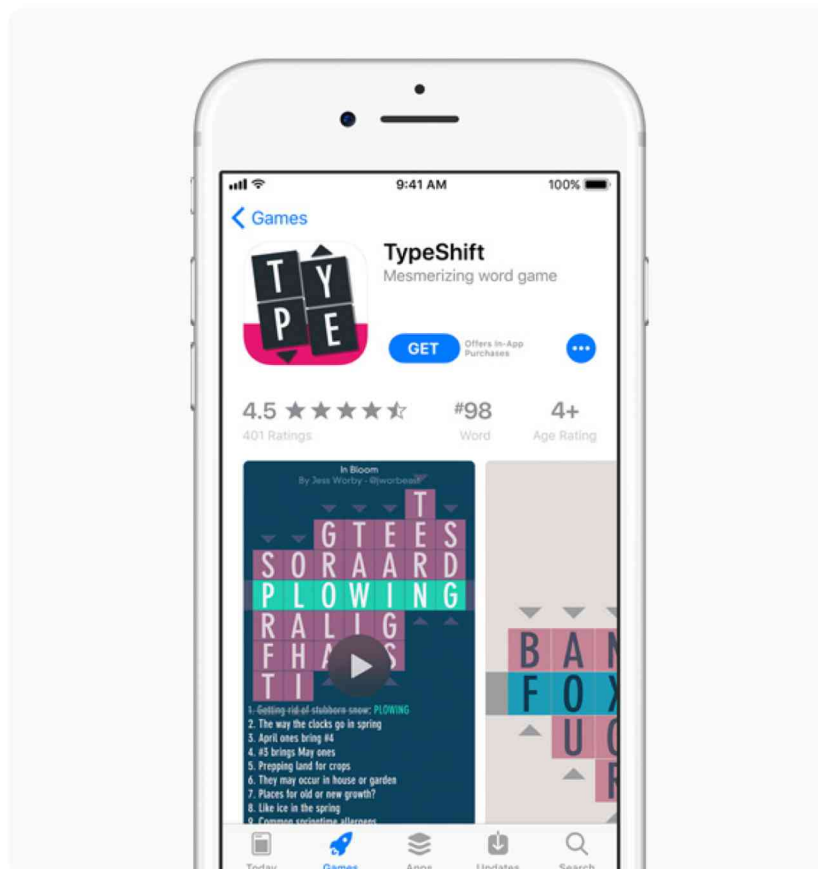

Search has been enhanced to include the editorial content found in Today, Games and Apps.

The Updates tab will allow customers to quickly see what has changed in their favorite apps and games with the latest update, and Search has been enhanced to include the editorial content found in Today, Games and Apps. Search by name, category, developer or topic, and you'll receive relevant results for specific apps and games, as well as editorial stories, collections and in-app purchases.
